

Think Family” is a Korean project looking to raise awareness of how important family values are. The video shows the importance of the love between parents and children seen through the eyes of a boy. It makes for a good moment to look again at our family relationships, especially with the more difficult members.